

Site Manager Finland (SEO) - part-time

Do you want to get in early to a young affiliation company? Are you looking for an extra job alongside your studies? Do you want to develop quickly in the SEO field? Is your native language Norwegian? Then we have the opportunity for you!

What will you do?

As a Site Manager at Tacotech AB, you will be responsible for the performance of one of our websites. The performance is mainly measured on two metrics, visibility in Google and performance for our advertisers/partners.

To ensure that our performance is met, you need to make sure that the site receives regular updates to its content and that the functionality is working. The content consists of images and text. Functionality usually means that buttons, links and ads work as they should.

You will be part of a small and familiar team and the ideal candidate will be able to work from our office one day a week. If you feel comfortable in the role, there will be several other responsibilities within the company to tackle.

In this specific role you are responsible for the Norwegian market in the insurance niche.

Are you the one to do it?

We are looking for someone who wants to learn more about SEO, SEM, WordPress and at the same time has no problem doing the dirty work writing content. To fit the role you will be confident in writing and have the drive to own and manage the content and design of your own website.

It is also an advantage if you have used the WordPress CMS system or have previous experience in SEO. An ideal candidate will also have built their own affiliate sites and enjoy everything from marketing to development.

As a person, you are first and foremost a reliable team player. You prefer to work carefully rather than quickly and have a long-term perspective where over time you want to create the best website possible.

In this junior role, there is no requirement for experience but we are looking for those who wish to work extra.

You must have a genuine interest in the web, SEO and affiliate marketing. Your responsibilities are also planned to be in the area of insurance for the Norwegian.

About Tacotech

Tacotech is an affiliate company that loves the internet. With us, you get an opportunity to get in early and help shape our future together. We are currently in a startup phase where you have every opportunity to help develop and grow.

Despite our size, we are brave and build high quality affiliate websites. We believe in long-term focus and smartness to be better than our competitors.

Application and contact details

The position is part-time of 5 to 10 hours per week with location at Nytorget in Stockholm but also with the possibility of 100% remote. Selection is ongoing so do not hesitate to send your application as soon as possible.

Send your application with the subject "Site Manager Spain - part-time" to joel@tacotech.se

Questions about the position please contact:

Joel Ahlby
0707421338
joel@tacotech.se